

15FQ+™

Combining the science of personality assessment with a rich understanding of behaviour...

Based on one of the most comprehensive ever studies into the structure of personality, the 15FQ+™ is the latest questionnaire based on Ray Cattell's pioneering research spanning more than 50 years. Fully revised and updated, the 15FQ+™ has been developed to offer high face validity to today's organisations without compromising measurement integrity.

The PfS 15FQ+™ is a comprehensive assessment of personality offering

- a rich understanding of personality traits and how they influence behaviour;
- profiles of the 16 primary factors, 'big five' and a range of derived scores;
- detailed analysis of the validity of the respondent's profile;
- online or on paper tools;
- flexible administration and reporting, fully controllable by PfS users;
- short completion times without compromising reliability;
- attractive design to aid motivation and completion;
- Comprehensive range of reports e-mailed to you immediately.

A wide range of applications

Suitable for use in selection, development or guidance, the 15FQ+™ describes personality in terms of 16 primary factors and five second-order factors - the 'big five'. Providing a comprehensive profile that gives a starting point for personal exploration and development, the 15FQ+™ is a flexible tool that empowers users to understand more about their inner personality and how this affects their external behaviour.

The 15FQ+™ measures the same 16 personality factors identified by Ray Cattell and his colleagues over 50 years ago, though with the inclusion of a measure of 'intellectance', the 15FQ+™ overcomes limitations with previous versions which included an ability scale.

Team Focus and Ray Cattell

Team Focus has been using Cattell's 16 personality factors model and the various versions of the 16PF questionnaire which were based on this model since 1989 and were chosen by Ray Cattell to host the last series of 'Cattell Seminars' in the UK during 1990 to 1993. As such we have had a longstanding relationship with the originator of this personality model. We have also experienced using the various versions of the 16PF[®] questionnaires as the model has evolved including the third edition, 16PF[®] Forms A, B, C and D and 16PF[®] Industrial. We now use 15FQ+[™] as an excellent way to obtain a profile which measures Cattell's original factors.

Advanced analysis and reporting

The 15FQ+[™] comes with a range of report options. Administrators' reports include a profile of the 16 primary factors and second-order (big five), validity scales and derived scores. A range of narrative reports suitable for respondents is also available.
